Yours. Every file. Every letter of the domain.

Many website deals lock you in. The designer holds the files, the domain sits in their account, and leaving means starting over. This one is built the other way around.

You own the files.

The full website, including code, images and text, belongs to your business. Ask for a copy at any time.

You own the domain.

Your web address is registered in your business's name, under your account. It stays with you.

Built by an analyst who is local.

Savvy Tech is run by me, Greg, a Financial Performance Analyst based in Grenada. My day job is turning business numbers into clear dashboards and reports that managers act on. I bring the same care for precision and clear communication to every website I build.

I also build interactive web pages and tools, so your site is made by someone who understands both the design and what drives results for a business here in Grenada.

Questions, answered.

Is there an upfront fee to build the website?

No. The design and build are included in your subscription. Your first Quarterly payment of $405 XCD gets the work started.

Why do I need to start with a Quarterly plan?

The first three months cover planning, design, building and launch. Starting on Quarterly means your site is properly finished before you move to a more flexible option.

Will my business show up on Google?

Every package includes SEO optimization. Each page gets proper titles, descriptions and keywords, your site is submitted to Google through Search Console, and your Google Business Profile is linked so you appear in local searches and on Google Maps. No one can promise the number one spot, but your site is set up to be found.

Is my website secure?

Yes. Every site runs on secure hosting with SSL encryption, so data sent through your site is protected and visitors see the padlock in their browser. Contact forms have spam protection, and your site is backed up regularly so it can be restored quickly if anything goes wrong.

What happens if I cancel?

You keep your website files and your domain name. They were yours from the start. Savvy Tech will hand over everything you need to move to any host you choose.

Can I change plans later?

Yes. After your first quarter you can move between Quarterly, Monthly and Yearly. The new rate starts at your next billing date.

How do I request changes to my site?

Send a WhatsApp message or email with what you want updated, such as new photos, prices or opening hours, and it will be handled for you as part of your plan.

Let's get your business online.

Start with a Quarterly plan at $405 XCD, or lock in the best value with Yearly at $1,440 XCD.
